Department of Psychology Library

Established by Rector's Decree No. 1646 of July 1, 2009, ACNP Code NA229, the Psychology Department's Library has a patrimony of 5,000 volumes and 322 periodical titles (ceased and current). The library is equipped with 127 seats, 8 workstations for the disabled and 10 computer stations for the consultation of online catalogues and databases.

Access to the library

The library can be accessed by all institutional users of the University: lecturers, researchers, professors and appointees, doctoral students, postgraduate students and specialisation schools, students and technical-administrative staff of the University of Campania Luigi Vanvitelli, as well as students and scholars accredited by the University establishments.

Information and Assistance Service

The library provides an information and assistance service (Reference Service) for consulting the University's online catalogue (OPAC - Online Public Access Catalogue) and the University's online databases, as well as assistance with bibliographical searches.

Book Loan

The library provides a loan service for the owned titles to all institutional users, the modalities of loaning to other users are specified in the library regulations available at:

<https://www.unina2.it/doc/ateneo/amministrazione/regolamenti/D.R. n. 181 2014.pdf>

Copies

There is a copying service in the library: users may, upon presentation of an identity document, make copies for personal use of original works by photocopying, xerocopying or similar means in accordance with Law no. 248 of 18/2/2000, New regulations for the protection of copyright (published in the Official Gazette no. 206 of 4 September 2000) within the limit of fifteen per cent (15%) of each volume or issue of a periodical, excluding advertising pages.

Document Delivery - Article Recovery

The library provides the service of recovering articles owned by other libraries to teachers, researchers, PhD students, students. To this end, the library is a member of the NILDE (Network Inter-library Document Exchange) association, a project promoted by the CNR of Bologna that encourages cooperation between Italian and foreign libraries.

University SOL Catalogue

The University's online catalogue (OPAC - Online Public Access Catalogue) Sebina You, accessible at the following web address: <http://unina2.on-line.it/opac/do> allows you to check which monographs and periodicals are held by the Psychology Department library and which are held by the other University libraries.

On-line University databases

Access is guaranteed by recognising the IP address relating to the University network + any password; access is also possible through connection to the University WiFi network. To use the databases, you have to connect to the
